

Drawing from Perception VIII

Drawings by more than sixty artists from across the country will be featured in the upcoming Drawing from Perception VIII exhibition at Wright State University's Robert & Elaine Stein Galleries. The exhibition opens with an artist talk and reception on January 21, 2018, and runs from January 16 through February 25, 2018.

Tim Kennedy - Nestor/Canoe

Showing concurrently in the Canteloupe Gallery, Catherine Kehoe: Works on Paper features 22 small drawings by the juror. Kehoe earned her BFA in painting from Massachusetts College of Art and Design and her MFA in painting from Boston University. Her work has been extensively shown and collected throughout the United States. She has been the recipient of numerous awards, including a Pollack-Krasner Grant. As a visiting artist Kehoe has taught workshops across the country and in the UK. She also teaches at Massachusetts College of Art & Design and at Black Pond Studio, where she is a co-founder. She is represented by Howard Yezerski Gallery, Boston.

Patrick Mauk - Untitled Drawing 3

On Sunday, Jan. 21, Catherine Kehoe will present a free public lecture at 2:30 p.m. in 280 Creative Arts Center. A reception will follow until 5:30 p.m. in the Stein Galleries, located in 160 Creative Arts Center. Drawing from Perception VIII is made possible through the support of the Ohio Arts Council and the Wright State University College of Liberal Arts.

Deborah Chlebek - Ellis Drawing 1

Gallery hours are Tues. & Thurs. 10am to 2pm, Wed. & Fri 10am to 4pm, Sat. & Sun. 12pm to 4pm. All Gallery events are free and open to the public. Visitor parking areas on campus are free, and parking at the Creative Arts Center is unrestricted on weekends. A dedicated parking space for galleries patrons is available in Lot 13. For more information, please contact the galleries at (937) 775-2978 or visit www.wright.edu/artgalleries