

WSU Anthropology Club February Newsletter

.....

The First Anthro Newsletter!

Here's what's going on in our Anthropology Department.

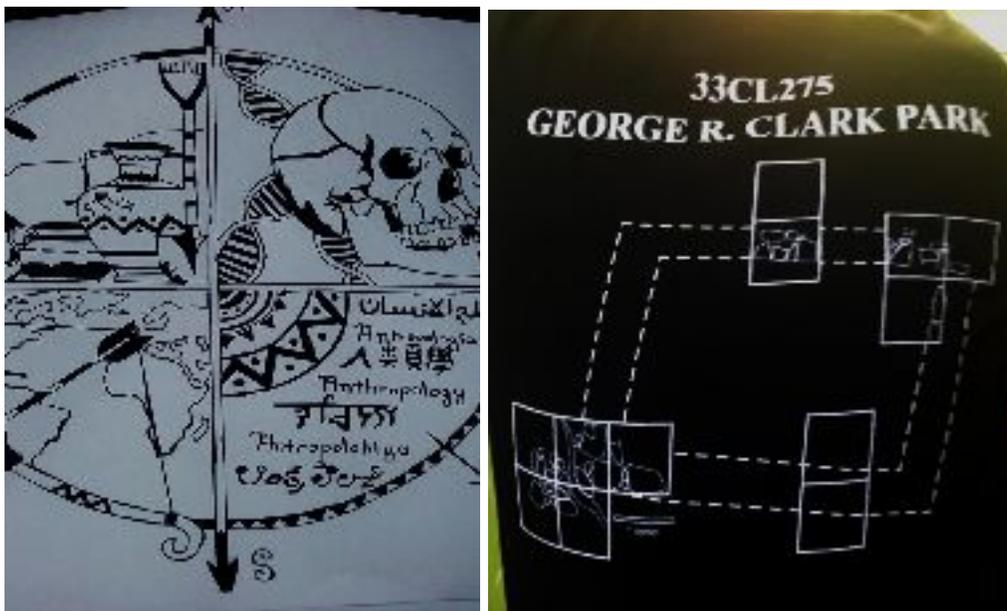

The First Anthro Movie night; Raiders of the Lost Ark (January 22 2018)

Last month the Anthro Club began our 4 part movie night series. Each month during the spring semester we will be hosting a free event with popcorn and an Anthropology theme movie. Each movie represents one of the 4 fields of anthropology, with Indiana Jones kicking things off with archaeology. If you have a favorite anthropology themed movie, be sure to share it with the club! You can contact us via the club's facebook page, or by emailing us at wsuanthroclub2018@gmail.com. The next movie night will be Monday, February 19 at 7:00 pm in the Anthropology Lab.

---

The Anthro Society 2018
T-Shirt Design Contest

The 2018 year T-Shirt Design contest begins with open submissions on Feb. 14th.

It's free to submit a design for the contest, and submissions will be open for two and a half weeks, ending on March 5th. Judging for the designs will take place the following date (TBA). Winner of the contest will receive two free t-shirts!

The only requirements for submissions are as followed:

1. Must be emailed to the club's email account: wsuanthroclub2018@gmail.com
2. The design must be black outlined with a white background. Anyone with a design not corresponding to these features will be asked to resubmit their design.

3. Previously used designs will not be re-used, but previous submissions are welcome!

For news and details about the contest, stay tuned to the Anthro Club's Social media.

---

Sunwatch Lecture Series 2018
Spooky Archaeology

Dr. Jeb Card from Miami University will be speaking at Sunwatch on Feb. 17.

Jeb Card, PhD at Miami University. Post is taken from the Sunwatch Spooky Archeology Event post.

The second presentation in the AIA/SunWatch 2018 Lecture Series: Science vs Pseudoscience presented by Dr. Jeb Card, Visiting Assistant Professor of Anthropology at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

Outside of scientific journals, archaeologists are depicted as searching for lost cities and mystical artifacts in news reports, television, video games, and movies like Indiana Jones or The Mummy. This fantastical image has little to do with day-to-day science, yet it is deeply connected to why people are fascinated by the ancient past. People today continue to find the mystical and archaeology and have a fascination with exotic artifacts and eerie practices. Exploring the development of archaeology helps us understand what archaeology is and why it matters. In this presentation by Jeb J. Card, the audience will follow a trail of clues left by adventurers and professional archaeologists through haunted museums, mysterious hieroglyphic inscriptions, fragments of a lost continent that never existed, and deep into an investigation of magic and murder.

Thanks to the Archaeological Institute of America and the generosity of an anonymous donor, admission to the 2018 Science vs Pseudoscience presentation series is free and open to the public. Regular admission fees apply for guests who wish to visit the museum and village before or after each presentation. Seating is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Pastries will be provided; guests are welcome to bring a beverage.

READ MORE AT THE EVENT PAGE

Wright State University
Anthropology Club
Contact us at:
Our facebook page
wsuanthroclub2018@gmail.com